

III. Claims 50 to 54, drawn to a method of scanning speech input at a local device for a keyword, initiating a connection between the local device and a remote system when the keyword is detected, and passing the speech input to the remote system for interpretation; and

IV. Claims 55 to 58, drawn to a method of scanning speech input at a local device for a keyword, initiating a connection between the local device and a remote system when the keyword is detect, storing a portion of the speech input into a memory, and transmitting the stored portion of the speech input into a memory, and transmitting the stored portion of the speech input to a remote system.

REMARKS

Applicants hereby elect the claims of Group II (claims 46 to 49) without traverse. Applicants reserve the right to re-present the claims of the non-elected groups by filing divisional applications directed thereto.

EXPRESS MAIL LABEL NO:

EL947824455US

Respectfully submitted,

Philip W. Woo
Attorney for Applicants
Reg. No. 39,880